No Cure for Being Human 2021-09-30 a sunday times and independent book of the year and instant new york times bestseller the bestselling author of everything happens for a reason and other lies i ve loved asks how do you move forward with a life you didn't choose hailed by glennon doyle as the christian joan didion kate bowler used to accept the modern idea that life is an endless horizon of possibilities a series of choices which if made correctly would lead us to a place just out of our reach a beach body by summer a trip to disneyland around the corner a promotion on the horizon but then at thirty five she was diagnosed with stage iv colon cancer and now she has to ask one of the most fundamental questions of all how do we create meaning in our lives when the life we hoped for is put on hold indefinitely in no cure for being human kate searches for a way forward as she mines the wisdom and absurdity of our modern best life now advice industry which offers us exhausting positivity trying to convince us that we can out eat out learn and out perform our humanness with dry wit and unflinching honesty she grapples with her cancer diagnosis her ambition and her faith and searches for some kind of peace with her limitations in a culture that says that anything is possible frank and funny dark and wise kate's irreverent hard won observations in no cure for being human chart a bold path towards learning new ways to live

The Four Winds 2021-02-02 the bestselling hardcover novel of the year publishers weekly from the number one bestselling author of the nightingale and the great alone comes a powerful american epic about love and heroism and hope set during the great depression a time when the country was in crisis and at war with itself when millions were out of work and even the land seemed to have turned against them my land tells its story if you listen the story of our family texas 1921 a time of abundance the great war is over the bounty of the land is plentiful and america is on the brink of a new and optimistic era but for elsa wolcott deemed too old to marry in a time when marriage is a woman's only option the future seems bleak until the night she meets rafe martinelli and decides to change the direction of her life with her reputation in ruin there is only one respectable choice marriage to a man she barely knows by 1934 the world has changed millions are out of work and drought has devastated the great plains farmers are fighting to keep their land and their livelihoods as crops fail and water dries up and the earth cracks open dust storms roll relentlessly across the plains everything on the martinelli farm is dying including elsa's tenuous marriage each day is a desperate battle against nature and a fight to keep her children alive in this uncertain and perilous time elsa like so many of her neighbors must make an agonizing choice fight for the land she loves or leave it behind and go west to california in search of a better life for her family the four winds is a rich sweeping novel that stunningly brings to life the great depression and the people who lived through it the harsh realities that divided us as a nation and the enduring battle between the haves and the have nots a testament to hope resilience and the strength of the human spirit to survive adversity the four winds is an indelible portrait of america and the american dream as seen through the eyes of one indomitable woman whose courage and sacrifice will come to define a generation

Good to Great 2001 can a good company become a great one and if so how after a five year research project collins concludes that good to great can and does happen in this book he uncovers the underlying variables that enable any type of organization to

Waking Up White 2014 one aha moment launches a journey of discovery and insight that shifts long held beliefs and attitudes about race

Think Again 2021-02-02 1 new york times bestseller this this is the right book for right now yes learning requires focus but unlearning and relearning requires much more it requires choosing courage over comfort in think again adam grant weaves together research and storytelling to help us build the intellectual and emotional muscle we need to stay curious enough about the world to actually change it i've never felt so hopeful about what i don't know brené brown ph d 1 new york times bestselling author of dare to lead the bestselling author of give and take and originals examines the critical art of rethinking learning to question your opinions and open other people's minds which can position you for excellence at work and wisdom in life intelligence is usually seen as the ability to think and learn but in a rapidly changing world there's another set of cognitive skills that might matter more the ability to rethink and unlearn in our daily lives too many of us favor the comfort of conviction over the discomfort of doubt we listen to opinions that make us feel good instead of ideas that make us think hard we see disagreement as a threat to our egos rather than an opportunity to learn we surround ourselves with people who agree with our conclusions when we should be gravitating toward those who challenge our thought process the result is that our beliefs get brittle long before our bones we think too much like preachers defending our sacred beliefs prosecutors proving the other side wrong and politicians campaigning for approval and too little like scientists searching for truth intelligence is no cure and it can even be a curse being good at thinking can make us worse at rethinking the brighter we are the blinder to our own limitations we can become organizational psychologist adam grant is an expert on opening other people's minds and our own as wharton's top rated professor and the bestselling author of originals and give and take he makes it one of his guiding principles to argue like he's right but listen like he's wrong with bold ideas and rigorous evidence he investigates how we can embrace the joy of being wrong bring nuance to charged conversations and build schools workplaces and communities of lifelong learners you'll learn how an international debate champion wins arguments a black musician persuades white supremacists to abandon hate a vaccine whisperer convinces concerned parents to immunize their children and adam has coaxed yankees fans to root for the red sox think again reveals that we don't have to believe everything we think or internalize everything we feel it's an invitation to let go of views that are no longer serving us well and prize mental flexibility over foolish consistency if knowledge is power knowing what we don't know is wisdom
